HUGHES TO OPEN CAMPAIGN TODAY

Republican Candidate for President Will Deliver Address in Detroit—Several Receptions—Strenuous Day Has Been Mapped Out for Ex-Justice.

Detroit, August 6 — Charles E. Hughes, Republican presidential nominee, will begin his campaign here tomorrow with two speeches. Mr. Hughes will arrive from Niagara Falls shortly after 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, but will not speak until late in the evening. A strenuous day has been mapped out for the nominee including numerous receptions, a visit to Main Field where parts of the Detroit-Philadelphia game will be seen and a visit to several local automobile plants.

Immediately upon his arrival at the Michigan Central station in the morning, Mr. Hughes will be taken to his hotel. There he will hold a reception at 9 o'clock. Next a special reception will be tendered to representatives of the press and at the conclusion of this gathering, delegates and alternates to the Republican National Convention and members of the Republican State Central Committee will meet the candidate. The program then calls for a similar reception to delegates and alternates to the Progressive National Convention.

Shortly before noon Mr. Hughes will receive members of the Congressional Union Woman's Party. Conferences will be held with members of the Republican State Central Committee at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and at 3 o'clock Mr. Hughes will go to the baseball park. Leaving there about 4 o'clock, the tour of the automobile plants will begin. At 5:30 o'clock the nominee is to lunch with newspaper men at the Detroit Athletic Club.

The first speech in the evening is scheduled for shortly before 8 o'clock. At the conclusion of this speech Mr. Hughes will be hurried to the Light Guard Armory, in the downtown section, where, according to the program mapped out, he will begin speaking at about 9 o'clock.

Hughes on Way to Chicago
 Chicago, August 6—William R. Willcox, chairman of the Republican National Committee, will arrive here tomorrow morning, working for hours in advance of Charles E. Hughes, the party's Presidential candidate, according to a telegram received today by Henry T. Rathbone, president of the Hamilton Club. President Rathbone began preparation at once for a luncheon tomorrow at which Mr. Willcox will be the guest of honor.

Mr. Hughes will arrive at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning from Detroit. At noon a public reception will be held, and at night the Presidential candidate will speak at the Coliseum. Immediately after his speech he will leave for St. Paul. He is accompanied by Mrs. Hughes and two carloads of correspondents.

Carries the Ninth District Over Snedagar and Kash by Five Hundred Majority—Fields Will Be His Opponent.

Congressional Nominees
 First District—A. W. Barkley, Democrat; *G. P. Thomas, Republican.
 Second District—D. H. Winchelo, Democrat; F. J. Pentecost, Republican.

Third District—R. Y. Thomas, Democrat; *J. F. Taylor, Republican.
 Fourth District—Ben Johnson, Democrat; *J. P. Haswell, Jr., Republican.
 Fifth District—Swagar Sherry, Democrat; W. C. Owens, Republican.

Sixth District—A. B. Rouse, Democrat; J. E. Shepherd, Republican.
 Seventh District—J. Campbell Cantrell, Democrat; W. J. Manby, Republican.

Eighth District—Harvey Helm, Democrat; *R. L. Davidson, Republican.

Ninth District—W. J. Fields, Democrat; A. J. Pennington, Republican.
 Tenth District—Willis Slaton, Democrat; John Langley, Republican.

Eleventh District—*S. B. Dishman, Democrat; Caleb Powers, Republican.
 *Doubtful.

Although incomplete returns have been received from all the counties in the Ninth District the results already in point to a victory by A. J. Pennington for the nomination by the Republican party for Congressman. His majority will probably reach 5000 votes.

In Mason county the vote is one of the smallest ever polled at a primary election. Less than a total of 1500 votes were cast in the county, the voters seemingly staying away from the polls on account of the hot weather. Several of the precincts missing the vote shows Pennington, 202; Kash, 36; Snedagar, 28. Pennington carried almost every county in the district. In Montgomery county Kash is given an unofficial majority over Pennington of 127. In Fleming county the vote stood Snedagar, 85; Kash, 275; Pennington, 15. These are the only two counties heard from that give Kash a majority of the votes cast. In Nicholas county Pennington leads Kash by 140 votes.

The Democratic Vote

The Democratic vote seemed to have been almost entirely handed to Fields. In every county heard from he has a sweeping vote and his majority cannot be estimated. The following is the vote in several of the counties:

Mason—Fields, 590; Hiles, 99; Riley, 290.
 Nicholas — Fields, 580; Hiles, 18; Riley, 179.
 Fleming—Fields, 726; Riley, 240; Hiles, 39.
 Harrison—Fields, 1,048; Hiles, 49; Riley, 197.
 Carter—Fields leading by 800.
 Boyd—Fields leading by 600.
 Robertson—Plurality for Fields of 84.
 Montgomery—Fields leading by 250.
 The race will be between Pennington and Fields without doubt.

COVINGTON WOMAN SUCCUMBED WHILE IN GERMANTOWN, KY.

Announcement of the death of Germantown, Ky., of Mrs. Martha Walton, 95, of Covington, was received in this city by relatives Friday morning. Mrs. Walton was visiting a daughter, Mrs. T. F. Tyler, in Germantown. Death was due to old age. She came to Covington many years ago from Germantown. Her husband was the late Simeon Walton, who was well-known in Mason county. The decedent is survived by two sons, John Walton of Covington and Joseph Walton, a resident of California, and two daughters, Mrs. Tyler of Germantown and Ida Walton of this city.—Times-Star.

USING TURNOUT

The employees of the Street Car Co. worked the larger part of the night last night in making ready for the cars to use the turnout between Popular and Union streets. The cars began using the turnout this morning and the track will be concreted as soon as possible and give the contractors in the Sixth Ward a chance to use it. The street car track and the north side of East Second street are bricked and tarred and all ready for use, they having been used yesterday for the first time. With two tar wagons in operation short work was made of pouring the filler.

Over two hundred persons went from this city to Ruggles Campgrounds yesterday. The second largest crowd in the history of the Campmeeting was present yesterday, there being about 3500 including campers. Had it not rained there would have undoubtedly been a much larger crowd.

Mr. John Trapp of Ripley, Ohio, died yesterday afternoon. Mr. Trapp was a life long friend of Mr. George M. Dier of this city.

COUNTY COURT

In the Mason County Court Saturday a paper bearing the date of December 8, 1913, and purporting to be the last will and testament of Angie K. Mitchell, deceased, was produced in court and ordered filed. The handwriting of the same was proven by the testimony of H. C. Sharp and R. B. Adair. The will was admitted to probate.

Thomas D. Slattery, named in the will of Angie K. Mitchell, deceased, as executor, declined to qualify as same and James M. Sallee was appointed in his stead.

HOME GROWN MELONS

Home grown watermelons and cantaloupes are arriving on the local market in great numbers now. Several skiff loads were brought to the wharf this morning. The men say that the watermelons are selling from ten to twenty-five cents and the cantaloupes average about six cents apiece. A great number of them are being sold.

HOUSE ROBBED

The house of Fannie Haley on East Fifth street was entered yesterday afternoon and a large sum of money amounting to about $40 was taken. The matter was reported to the police but no clues could be found as to the identity of the thieves.

BIG WIND

Yesterday afternoon a big wind hit in the vicinity of the dam and for some time blew things around rather lively. A barge on which a pile driver was placed was broken from its moorings and driven across the river. Several small boards were lifted by the winds and carried for some distance. A large number of the workmen had placed their dinner pails on the edge of the coffer dam. When the cruel winds passed by the pails passed too and many a man went hungry at supper time. The wise ones that had cached their supper set a good example for many resolved to never again set their supper where it could be blown away.

Need a Nice Traveling Bag?

We have about twenty-five splendid traveling bags that we are going to close out, NOW, at a big reduction.

They range in price from $1.75 to $22.00, and we are going to SELL THEM.

Enough said; if you need a bag, here's your chance.

Girls' Gingham and Percale Dresses Under Price

"I always find the prettiest and most girlish styles in your store," said a mother the other day, and these are just such dresses. That they are offered at reductions merely means we are desirous of a clearance. Excellent ginghams and percales in plaids, checks and plain colors, neatly trimmed and well made. Sizes 6 to 16.

We could not possibly buy these dresses at wholesale for the price at which we offer them. But the insistent cry for "something new" compels us to close out the stock now so we can have an entirely new assortment for the coming season. Mothers lose a splendid bargain opportunity who fail to see these attractive little frocks.

"AMERICA FIRST AND AMERICA EFFICIENT"

These words are the key-note of Mr. Hughes's speech of acceptance. They emphasize his clear thinking, his far-seeing vision and his clarity of expression. They take one beyond the confusion of today and into the life of tomorrow—of that tomorrow which shall follow the conclusion of peace in Europe, when the world will take up its readjustment and when the fashion of that readjustment will determine for the United States whether we shall maintain, in any measure, the commercial and industrial supremacy which we now enjoy.

That supremacy is nothing for which we can take special credit to ourselves. It was not created by Woodrow Wilson nor is it the outgrowth of any of the policies of his party. It exists not because of, but in spite of, the Wilson administration, the Democratic Congress and the Underwood tariff law. It may disappear as suddenly as it came—and it will so disappear if the Wilson administration, the Democratic Congress and the Underwood tariff are to be retained.

If America is to remain first, America must be made efficient—efficient is legislation in politics as well as efficient in the next four or eight years—and it is the vista which attracts the attention of Hughes. He is not looking to the fourth of March, 1917. His gaze is toward the fourth of March, 1925—when his successor will take office; and when, by the effect of the policies which he has in mind and which he will put in force in cordial co-operation with a Congress of his party, an America, first and efficient, will stand forth pre-eminent as never before.

That is Hughes's vision of his task—an alluring vision of unselfishness and patriotism. He has set it before the country; and it summons every American, and especially every efficient American, to join with Hughes in carrying the task forward to triumphant completion. This is a summons which every efficient American will heed and heed. Hughes will lead us all to "America first and America efficient."

THE MAN BEHIND THE SPEECH

"The chief value of the Hughes speech of acceptance lies not so much in the information it contains as in the picture and impression it gives the American people of the man behind the speech. In the coming election as never before, we shall vote for men—not words. In the three years just past we have learned the futility of voting for empty promises. We have had a demonstration of the uselessness of catchy phrases backed only by a weak and vacillating personality. The American voter today is reading between the lines to find the quality of the man, and when he read the Hughes speech he was impressed with the sincerity, the dignity and the stability of the speaker.

"It was a straightforward statement of facts and discussion of issues, without any of that impulsive extravagance of utterance which has often led Mr. Wilson into humiliating retractions and reversals. There was no 'play to the galleries.' It was thought, the feeling and the language of the statesman, rather than of the mere politician. It was gratifying and encouraging, therefore, to those millions of Americans who have become tired of speeches made merely to catch votes and who earnestly desire as the head of this nation a man who will represent sound economic policies at home and who will maintain the rights and prestige of the United States and its citizens in every land and on every sea."

HEARD AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Senators Kern and Representative John A. M. Adair of Indiana, were keenly disappointed over the fact that former Senator A. J. Beveridge of Indiana, came out so strongly for Hughes and Fairbanks. Kern and Taggart who are candidates for re-election to the Senate, and Mr. Adair who is now a candidate for governor, have been hoping that Senator Beveridge would not support the Republican candidates. His hearty endorsement of the latter was about the last straw in the hopes of Democracy and there has been much gloom among the members of the Indiana congressional delegation in both the House and Senate.

"From reports that I get from all sections of the country with people, there seems to be a consensus of opinion that the Republican vote throughout the country will at least reach the normal figure our party received when it was winning victories election after election," said Representative Will R. Wood of Indiana. "With the Republican party united as it is today, it does not take much of a mathematician to figure out what is going to happen. This is why the Democrats are so apprehensive and why Vance McCormick is chasing rainbows, hoping he can start some turmoil in the ranks of the Republicans. He is too late. Our party is in accord and it is our political opponents this time who are in discord."

At the annual meeting of postmasters in Washington a few days ago, the first assistant postmaster general lauded the postal savings system. That must have been a bitter pill for Postmaster Burleson, who sat on the same platform with his assistant. When the postal savings bill was passed, Mr. Burleson, then a congressman from Texas, voted against it. Every vote cast against it was cast by a Democrat. Not one Democrat Congressman voted for it. Yet President Wilson said the Republican party has not had a new idea in thirty years. Whose idea was it?

The Democrats in Congress are displaying great anxiety at the present time about the New York situation. Word comes also from the White House that the President is also alarmed over the outlook there. A Democratic Congressman from that state recently was heard to express himself that he would not be surprised if Hughes carried the state by 100,000 majority.

BILLY CHANDLER

Hailed as the "Comedian of the Speedways," Billy Chandler, driver of one of the American-made cars in the international sweepstakes race to be run at the Cincinnati Speedway on Labor Day, September 4, is nevertheless one of the most proficient and consistent drivers on the circuit. Chandler formerly was mechanic for Ralph Mulford, and was compelled to finish several races when that star was injured. Since becoming a driver Chandler has stepped into the foremost ranks of international racers.

ONE SEASON.Labor Day Race at Cincinnati Speedway Will Offer Richest Rewards of the Year.

That there are other methods of making fortunes than by speculating in war industries is evidenced by the prizes that are being offered in various parts of the country for extraordinary performances in auto races. So far this season there have been several races staged in various parts of the country in which the winner has drawn down upward of $10,000 as his share of the purse offered, to say nothing of special awards made by manufacturers of various accessories whose appliances the winners have used.

The international sweepstakes race, which will mark the opening of the new Cincinnati Motor Speedway at Sharonville, on Labor Day, September 4, offers greater inducements for drivers than any race that has been staged in America this year. The regular prizes offered for this event, which will be over a two-mile course for a distance of 300 miles, aggregate $30,000, of which $12,000, or 40 per cent, goes to the driver winning the race. Other prizes, ranging from $6,000 to $700, will be given drivers finishing in the race, with three special awards of $500 each for the drivers leading at 100, 200 and 250 miles, respectively.

Besides these awards, there will be the interest of all the drivers in the Bosch Trophy and championship prize money, which now amounts to more than $15,000, and is being added to with each race. A number of special trophy cups, donated by Cincinnati enthusiasts, also will go to the winners, making the Cincinnati race the most attractive for drivers and for the public that will be run this year.

Astoria, N. Y. — "For two years I was feeling ill and took all kinds of tonics. I was getting worse every day. I had chills, my head would ache, I was always tired. I could not walk straight because of the pain in my back and I had pains in my stomach. I went to a doctor and he said I must go under an operation, but I did not go. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told my husband about it. I said 'I know nothing will help me but I will try this.' I found myself improving from the very first bottle, and in two weeks time I was able to sit down and eat a hearty breakfast with my husband, which I had not done for two years. I am now in the best of health and do not have the operation." — Mrs. JOHN A. KOENIG, 502 Flushing Avenue, Astoria, N. Y.

Every one dreads the surgeon's knife and the operating table. Sometimes nothing else will do; but many times doctors say they are necessary when they are not. Letter after letter comes to the Pinkham Laboratory, telling how operations were advised and were not performed; or, if performed, did no good, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was used and good health followed.

DAINGEROUS TREES

(Philadelphia Ledger)

What trees should you especially avoid during a thunderstorm?

First, the poplar; second, the oak; third, various varieties of the fir, and pine tree. These are the most likely to be struck by lightning.

If you must seek shelter under a tree, look out an alder. In all Germany, where a careful investigation was made recently of the proneness of trees to become targets for thunderbolts, not a single instance was found of an alder being struck.

Virtually a third of all trees struck are oaks. Just a hundred times as many oaks as beech trees are hit by lightning.

The oak is 25 times as dangerous as the birch and 18 times as fatal as the pine.

It is safer to stand beneath a pear tree than an apple. Walnut and cherry do not attract electricity so strongly as do elm, willow and chestnut.

A tree standing by itself is in much greater danger than a tree standing in a wood. Trees with deep roots are more likely to be struck by lightning than trees with roots near the surface of the ground.

Trees in damp soil are also better targets, and therefore less safe places of shelter than trees in dry ground.

A house surrounded by oak and poplar trees is hardly ever struck, as the trees act in the capacity of lightning rods, which divert the thunderbolts.

There is an old adage that lightning never strikes twice in the same place, but I've seen a tree that was hit more than once.

Evidently the Pennsylvania Germans have also seen similar examples, because they have the two well-grounded superstitions.

"If wood from a tree which was struck by lightning is burned in the stove, lightning will strike the house."

"Wood from a tree struck by lightning must never be used in the construction of a house or barn, or the latter will also be struck by lightning."

Honesty is an ingredient in the make-up of the man who pays his just debts before buying luxuries.

DYING SOLDIER COVERS GAS MASK WITH EARTH TO PREVENT PATTERN REACHING RUSSIANS

With the Right Wing of Field Marshall von Hindenburg's Army July 28 (by Courier to Berlin, August 3).—"Here is the place where the Russians reported during their March offensive that they had taken our first three lines," said the German Captain with whom an American correspondent had just inspected the Teuton front trenches southward of Narocz Lake.

The officer continued: "Their statements, though accurate, was misleading, for these three lines of trenches composed our first line of defense."

The Captain's statement, as the correspondent had the fullest opportunity to observe, was true. In his trip to the front, which covered altogether many scores of miles of trenches, the observer never before had seen positions which appeared to be so strong or so nearly impregnable.

A terrible commentary on the Russian losses here during the March offensive was afforded by a remark of the officer at a certain point in the trenches where the trench led the correspondent to ask whether bodies were still lying unburied. He replied: "No, but the victims of shell fire are so shelled that it is impossible to cover all the scraps of flesh when building the trenches."

The positions referred to were temporarily captured by the Russians in March after a German battalion, which had been withstanding the attacks of some 7,000 men, had been reduced to 200 survivors, and the commander decided to withdraw them when the last of their four machine guns jammed.

The Germans retook the position on April 26 and two days later they advanced their line some 200 yards, where it is still held by them. The importance of a breach for the Russians here comes from the fact that this is the main route to Vilna. The last attack of any consequence was made July 6. It failed, like its predecessor, with heavy losses for the Russians.

During artillery bombardments one lookout is stationed by the commander at each section of a trench and he is relieved every 15 minutes.

"It cannot be required that any man shall stand awaiting death for more than 15 minutes at a stretch," said the trench officer. Here, as everywhere, the correspondent found that the spirit of the troops left nothing to be desired. Everyone was confident that the Germans already had conquered, and that it was only necessary to wait until the Entente Allies learned of the impossibility of breaching the German lines. The correspondent was surprised in English by a private soldier, who explained that he had worked for five years in a factory near Hartford, Conn.

A touching instance of a German soldier's fidelity to orders was related by a battalion commander. Three men left the trenches on a patrolling expedition and only two returned. A search the following night revealed the body of the third man, who had been mortally wounded. It was noticed that he had buried something in the ground in the interval before his death.

When the object was uncovered it proved to be a gas mask of a new pattern. The strictest orders had been given that this mask should not be permitted to get into the hands of the Russians their masks at the time being of an inferior design. The soldier's last thought when dying had been of this order.

The Russians maintain a fairly constant rifle fire, which is utterly wasted here, the only German casualties coming from an occasional well-directed shrapnell shell.

GERMAN CROPS ARE ENORMOUS; OPTIMISTIC REPORTS ARE FILED

Berlin, August 4.—After many weeks of cloudy weather, with a superabundant rainfall and cool, clear nights, hot summer weather has ruled everywhere in Germany. The change came most opportunely, as the German harvest had begun and sunshine was needed to insure the garnering of the splendid crops.

All reports from farming districts are of a decidedly optimistic character and create the general impression that the problem of feeding Germany during the next 12 months will be decidedly easier than in the last year.

This opinion is reinforced by the crop conditions in the occupied territory, which will be able to contribute a surplus above the wants of the native population, for export to Germany. This will be especially true in the case of Courland, where a correspondent this week found splendid crops nearing harvest, which had been planted by German troops on an extended field that had been almost wholly ascertained by the native population during the

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS SICK?

Many Maysville People Have Kept Well By Keeping Their Kidneys Well.

The first symptom of kidney trouble may be only a slight pain in the back, a feeling of stiffness or soreness in the loins, or some annoying irregularity of the urinary passages. Urine is often discolored and perhaps sediment gathers upon standing. Next may come a dull, throbbing headache, sharp, knife-like pains, headaches, dizziness and in many cases, lameness when arising in the morning. No one can afford to delay until these troubles become serious. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills, the tried and tested kidney remedy that has won the praise of thousands. Maysville readers should find convincing proof of merit in the following statement. It's from a resident of this locality.

A. Sorries, locksmith, Aberdeen, O., says: "The action of my kidneys was irregular and the kidney secretions contained sediment. I had backache and when stooping, it was hard for me to straighten up. Colds always settled on my kidneys. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they stopped the trouble and my kidneys became strong."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Sorries had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Germany offensive of 1916.

An agriculture specialist writing in the Tageblatt summarizes the general crop prospects as promising a good average yield, at least, and in many parts very good. He estimates the average winter wheat crop around Berlin at from 30 to 35 bushels an acre and in some places more than 50; winter rye at from 25 to 30; oats from 45 to 55. Spring grain also is unusually good, whereas in 1915 it was a comparative failure.

A striking feature of all grain crops is the abundant straw, which is important owing to the fact that Government experts have advised a method of grinding and treating straw for use as a basis for the production of concentrated animal feed in connection with the production of albumen by the fermentation of molasses.

The potato crop, which is one of the most important products of Germany, is quite satisfactory. The total crop is expected to exceed that of 1915, which was one of the largest in history.

The best crop also is in splendid condition at this time, but it is impossible to predict the sugar yield, which will depend almost entirely upon the amount of sunshine in August and September.

Staple vegetables, like cabbage, peas, beans and roots of all kinds, are giving large yields, especially cabbages, of which an unusually large acreage was planted to be used in the form of sauerkraut.

One of the best features of the situation is the large hay crop. The first harvest, now completed, produced double, and in some cases triple, the amount of last year's crop when the first mowing was unusually light. The general impression from all crop reports is that Germany now has passed the most critical period in solving the subsistence problem.

FAIRBANKS TO MAKE TOUR

New York, August 4.—The Republican national campaign leaders announced today that Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indianapolis, vice presidential nominee on the Republican ticket, will make a campaign tour of the country similar to that now planned for Charles E. Hughes. It was said at the headquarters that Mr. Fairbanks will follow Mr. Hughes over virtually the same ground later in the campaign.

DORIS T OSTIR 'EM UP

New York, August 4.—Miss Doris Stevens, of the Women's Roosevelt League for Hughes, left New York today for an extended tour of the suffrage states in the West to organize the women voters in favor of the Republican candidate. Miss Stevens will make her headquarters in Colorado Springs, and will meet there organizers of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage already in the field. Later she will go to San Francisco.

HEAVY MAJORITY POLLED

Nashville, Tenn., August 4.—The proposal to call a constitutional convention received a majority of 14,000 in yesterday's election according to returns tonight from about half the counties of the state. Representatives Padgett, Sims and Garrett were renominated in Democratic primaries and Representative Houston led for renomination.

Sand is one of the important ingredients in the elixir of success.

KENTUCKY MOOSE FOR C. E. HUGHES

No organized opposition to the delivering of the Progressive vote to the Republican nominee by the National Committee has been started, as far as is known by local leaders of the Progressive party, according to statements made by Capt. J. W. Throckmorton and Leslie Combs, leaders of Fayette County Progressives, when asked what action would be taken by Fayette and Kentucky Bull Moosers in regard to the decision of the conference at Indianapolis Thursday to put in a bid for a strong electoral vote in several states with a ticket headed by John M. Parker, of Louisiana, Vice Presidential nominee.

"I, personally, am in favor of Mr. Hughes' candidacy," said Mr. Combs, former National Committeeman from Kentucky, "and as far as I have observed, there is no element in the Progressive party in Kentucky of any character of standing which contemplates any organized opposition to the action of the Progressive National Committee in endorsing the nomination of Mr. Hughes."

Mr. Combs is recognized as the leader of the conservative element of the party in Fayette and has been prominent in the affairs of the party ever since its organization.

However, said that he had not made up his mind in regard to the situation, and had hardly been able to think since the announcement of the decision of the National Committee, so great was his astonishment and chagrin, but said that he is a Roosevelt man, first, last and all the time.

He blamed the trouble on the failure of the Progressives to make the first nomination, forcing the Republicans to make the next move, and was especially bitter against George W. Perkins for withdrawing his support from Mr. Roosevelt at the critical moment. He said that he did not know of any organized movement to oppose Mr. Hughes in the election in Fayette County or Kentucky.

Kentucky was not one of the states named at the Indianapolis meeting as one of those which it was believed could be carried against the Republican nominee for Vice President.

LAMM HAS BIG LEAD

St. Louis, August 4.—With reports from 39 counties missing, Henry Lamm today had a lead of 25,500 votes over John E. Swagler for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. The Republican vote was much heavier than in the primary four years ago. After it had seemed certain J. Kelly Pool had been nominated by the Democrats for Secretary of State, more complete returns today gave John Sullivan, of Sedalia, a lead of 5,000 votes.

It's an easy matter for a man to break out of the unknown class after inheriting a big fortune.

The reason a man can't tell the average woman anything is because she would rather talk than listen.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years doctors pronounced it to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Belle of Maysville

The most wonderful whisky that ever drove the skeleton from a feast or painted landscapes in the brain of man. It is the mingled souls of wheat and corn. In it you will find the sunshine and the shadow that chased each other over the billowy fields; the breath of June; the ear of the lark; the dew of night; the wealth of summer; and Autumn's rich content—all golden with imprisoned light.

Drink it, and you will hear the voices of men and maidens singing the "Harvest Home" mingled with the laughter of children. Drink it, and you will feel within your blood the star-lit dawns, the dreamy, tawny dusks of many perfect days. For many years this liquid joy has been confined within the happy staves of oak, longing to touch the lips of man.

NOTES FROM RUGGLES

J. H. R. Writes Interesting Letter of Happening at Picturesque and Famous Old Campgrounds.

Ruggles Campgrounds, August 4—The camp was hardly astir this morning before the sad intelligence of the sudden death of Mr. Miles A. Wallingford was being told all over the camp. Mr. Wallingford has been associated so long with the management of the campmeeting that he almost seemed a part of it. As has already been stated in these notes, he has been actively connected with the Board of Directors for twenty-nine years. Feeling that his age and health would prevent his giving the attention to the work that should be given, he requested that another be elected in his place. Mr. Wallingford was a painstaking officer, all his books being up to date and in perfect order. The Association met this afternoon to take suitable action relative to his death. Resolutions of sympathy for the family, and an expression of appreciation for his many years service to the campmeeting were adopted and will be sent to the family, and also placed on the records of the Association.

We are hoping that Mason county enjoyed as good a rain as we had today. It just poured down all morning. Just an old-fashioned soaker. The campers have either had to go to church or stay in their cottages all day. No tennis or croquet this day. The tennis court is a miniature lake, and the kiddies were enjoying it as a wading pool.

Rev. A. W. Insko was the leader of the early prayer meeting today. Rev. E. P. Hall gave us the morning sermon which was greatly enjoyed by a large audience. Rev. W. K. McClure, pastor of the Flemingsburg M. E. Church, South, preached a fine sermon at the afternoon hour. Rev. McClure has been in attendance every day this week, driving over in his auto to every day. No one has enjoyed the services more than he, and it was surely a delight to us all to have him preach for us. Dr. Franklin was the evening preacher again, continuing the great series of evangelistic sermons.

Mr. Boyd K. Muse of the Maysville Postoffice force is spending a few days in camp as the guest of his mother and sisters.

Messrs. C. T. Trent and Ralph Riggs of Advance, Ky., arrived today to remain until the close of the meetings. Mrs. L. D. Soudley and Miss Bessie Ross of Flemingsburg arrived today to camp over Sunday.

Ruggles Campgrounds, August 5—The services of this last week day of the campmeeting have just closed with shouts of victory from sinners turned to their Savior. After a soul-stirring sermon from Dr. Franklin two penitents sought peace at the altar. This was Dr. Franklin's last sermon. His work has resulted in great good. Not only have sinners been saved but all who have attended and heard his heart searching sermon have felt the touch that brings a better life. Ruggles' campers will remember with gratitude the work of Dr. Franklin and hope that he may come this way again.

Rev. A. F. Felts conducted the early prayer service which was well attended. Rev. A. P. Smith preached the morning sermon. Rev. Smith is a born Kentuckian, a typical Kentucky preacher, but for several years has been serving Ohio churches. But Brother Smith, like many others, still has a love for his native land, and this visit to the campmeeting has sort of made him homesick to get back into the Kentucky Conference. There is something about the association of the Kentucky preachers that appeals to strangers. We have with us a preacher just over from England about five years. Part of this time has been spent in Eastern states, but for over a year he has preached in Kentucky, and he told the writer that he had never in all his experience met with a better spirited set of men than at this place. He is carried away with the place and will come again next year and bring his family.

Dr. Jolly gave the young people his closing talk this afternoon. He has certainly done great good, and no one seems disappointed that a charge was necessary in this service. Dr. Jolly is a close student of the Bible and is able to open its truth in such an interesting way that he has held the interest from the very first.

The Sunday preachers, Dr. J. N. Eason and Rev. L. L. Pickett, arrived this afternoon. As soon as supper was over a large crowd assembled about the hotel and called upon Brother Pickett for a speech. While very tired he came forth and gave a talk that will not soon be forgotten. Rev. Pickett is a very entertaining speaker and this foretaste will give the folks an increasing desire to hear him tomorrow afternoon.

The contest between the "Can't Be Beaten" and the "Bound To Wins" came to a close today with the "Can't Be Beaten" nine points to the good. At 4:30 this afternoon both sides lined up for a march over the grounds. The victors were shown all the usual honors accorded the triumphant side. There was over one hundred children in line and a more beautiful sight could scarcely be seen than this bunch of bright-faced children, gaily bedecked with garlands of green leaves each carrying a flag. Many of the pretty campmeeting songs—the ones the children love—were sung during the parade. Occasional stops were made for special songs and prayers. The march concluded at the preachers cottage where the children surrounded the preachers. Dr. Eason of Louisville had just alighted from the auto when this happened and he was immediately introduced and gave the little folks a dandy little speech. This concluded the work of Miss Hurd among the children for the present meeting. A more successful work has not been done any year than the present one. She has had close to one hundred children daily to look after, and the wonderful success attending her efforts has proved conclusively that for such work she is a master. Not only has Miss Hurd's work with the children but as a leader with the R. C. M. Girls she has made the force of the Christian life felt to a large degree.

The last Saturday night always draws a large crowd to the grounds. For the real pleasure of the camp the nights are better than the days, and immense crowds always come in on Saturday nights to stay over Sunday. And it is hard to give and retire for sleep when every one is having such a good time. It is always near the midnight hour before the camp is quiet.

Many will go to Maysville tomorrow to attend the funeral of Mr. Mile Wallingford. Rev. Overly will go to preach the funeral, and Mr. Boyd Muse to sing at the funeral. The Bryant, Teager, Rose and Harding families have already gone to be present at the funeral. Had Mr. Wallingford lived he would have led the praise service tomorrow, a service he has led for many years. This service has for years been led by Mr. I. M. Lane and Mr. Wallingford. Mr. Lane will take the service for tomorrow. It will seem so different to not see and hear Mr. Wallingford's voice. His death will be a great loss to the Campmeeting.

The usual number of Maysville people came out today to stay over Sunday, too many to make a personal note of each, but Maysville is always to the front in this campmeeting, and the members of the Third Street Church have always been actively connected with the conducting of the camp.
